Apples and Pears

Getting started:

Which pupils will benefit from Apples and Pears?

Apples and Pears can be used with pupils of any age from 4 onward. It can be used with pupils of all abilities, including those with special needs. It can be used for one-on-one teaching, or it can be used with groups of pupils who are well-matched for ability. You should always use the placement tests to determine the appropriate starting point. Any pupil with a spelling age of less than 10 years will almost certainly benefit greatly from the programme.

Does it take any special training to use Apples and Pears?

Almost anyone with a bit of common sense can teach a child to spell with Apples and Pears. It is designed so that classroom assistants and parents can use it successfully, even with children who have reading problems. However, you must read these notes carefully. We are always happy to give advice.

How does Apples and Pears work?

Apples and Pears is a direct instruction programme. The Teacher's Notes are scripts which tell the teacher what to say to the pupils. The pupils each have their own workbook. The constant interaction between teacher and pupil ensures a very high percentage of time-on-task, and it enables the teacher to correct mistakes immediately.

Why does Apples and Pears work?

Learning to write well puts a considerable load on a pupil's memory. If pupils do not have a firm grasp of spelling, punctuation and grammar, they will have less attention available for the content of their work.

Apples and Pears works on these principles:

1. Carefully planned structure ensures that material is taught in a logical order.
2. Every task is broken down into the smallest possible steps.
3. Continuous reinforcement ensures that no time is wasted by teaching skills that are quickly forgotten.
4. Pupils are trained to hear each sound in a word—this greatly reduces the memory load of learning to spell.
5. Memory load is also drastically reduced by a 'morphemic' strategy—pupils learn interchangeable building blocks in words and the rules for adding them together. Each morpheme* in the word "ex-cept-ion-al-ly" can be used in dozens of other words. Pupils learn the rules for dropping the 'e' (hoping, hopeless); doubling (fitting, fitness) and changing 'y' to 'i' (studied, studying).

* A morpheme is the smallest unit of a word that has a meaning. e.g., the morphemes in 'watering' are water + ing, but its syllables are wah'ter ing.

6. Irregular words are introduced at a controlled rate. Pupils with learning difficulties find these the most difficult to master.
7. Extensive dictation exercises give pupils an understanding of correct sentence structure and punctuation, and assists the transfer of skills to other written work.
8. Multi-sensory techniques work with all pupils, regardless as to their individual strengths and weaknesses.

How often should I use Apples and Pears?

Ideally, you should use it every school day. With special needs pupils, this is all but essential. With other pupils, three lessons per week is the minimum. Each lesson will take about 10 to 20 minutes, depending upon the ability of the pupils and the experience of the teacher.

The Teacher's Notes:

At first glance, these may seem a bit daunting, but they all follow fairly standard patterns. Once you get used to them, you will only need to glance at them occasionally. You do not have to follow them word-for-word, and you should adapt the notes to your own style. There are three golden rules:

1. Keep you eyes on your pupils and their workbooks. If necessary, use a sheet of paper so you do not lose your place in the Teacher's Notes.
2. Correct all mistakes immediately, if not sooner. Review problem spellings before a spelling test or sentence dictation.
3. Keep the pace cracking along. Do not let pupils distract you—the others will get bored and lose the thread.

Correcting errors:

The best way to correct an error is to spell the word orally as the pupil writes down the letters. Then have the pupil cover the word and spell it orally, or write it (whichever is easiest).

When teaching groups, it is usually best to ask a pupil who has spelled the word correctly to spell it aloud, while others correct their work. When correcting their work, pupils must rewrite the whole word, not modify odd letters.

Reviewing problem spellings: individual tutoring

Each time the pupil makes a mistake and is unable to self-correct immediately, underline the word in your Teacher's Notes, and use the correction procedure outlined above. At the end of the lesson—and at the beginning of the next lesson—use the following procedure:

1. Make a list of the problem words. Spell each one out loud, and have the pupil write them down (on a whiteboard or a blank sheet of paper), reading what they have just written.

Example: Teacher: "Write b-r-o-w-n....what word?"

Pupil: "brown"

2. Ask the pupil to look at the word, and point to each letter and spell it out loud.

Example: Teacher: "Spell the word brown. Point to each letter as you say it."

Pupil: "b-r-o-w-n"

3. Cover the work and dictate each word, so the pupil writes them from memory. Intervene and correct as soon as the pupil makes a mistake.
4. Cover the work and ask the pupil to spell each word aloud from memory.

With special needs pupils, you should not do more than 2 or 3 words at a time. Otherwise, they may forget the spellings and make errors. If you have more than 4 words on your list, you may be going too fast and it is probably a good idea to go back 2 or 3 levels.

How fast should I go?

Most pupils can do a level each day with very little trouble. However, dyslexic pupils may need to go slower—perhaps half a level a day. But if a pupil is not getting at least 90% of his spellings right, you are going too fast.

Mastery Tests:

If a pupil fails a Mastery Test, you must go back. Do not give the pupil the benefit of the doubt in borderline cases. Otherwise, your pupil will keep making more and more mistakes, and this will destroy confidence and enthusiasm. Children seldom mind having to repeat material—usually, they are relieved to be working at the appropriate level.

Teaching groups:

Teaching groups is a far more efficient use of a teacher's time, and it is more fun. Competitions will keep your pupils keenly engaged. Always have all the pupils seated facing you—you cannot teach the back of a child's head. Ideally, you want to be able to see every worksheet without having to move more than a few steps. Do not be afraid to mix children from different years. Do not include children who are slow writers—the rest of the group will get bored waiting for them.

Review:

(At the beginning of each lesson, write the day and date on the white board. For instance, write Monday, July 4th, 2016.†)

At the beginning of each lesson, you will copy the day and date into your workbook. Write the day and the date in your workbook.

1. Copying letters in words:

I'll spell some words and you write them down.

Then tell me what words I spelled.

phone

busy

deny

build

ought

eight

climb

cell

Now cover your work and write these words from dictation.

2. Sentence dictation:

1. We ought to buy eight cell phones.

2. They can't all be busy at once.

3. 'y'-to-'i' Rule:

- When do you change 'y' to an 'i' in a word?

(When the word ends in consonant plus y)

(Repeat until perfect.)

Look at the first word-sum in Part 3.

The first part of the word-sum is fun + y.

- What word does that make? (funny)
- Now spell funny out loud, remember the Doubling Rule.

(f-u-n-n-y)

Write funny in the first blank.

- Does funny end with a consonant plus y? (Yes)
- Do we change the 'y' to an 'i' when we write funniest? (Yes)
- Spell funniest out loud. (f-u-n-n-i-e-s-t)

Now write funniest in your workbook.

---

† Make this standard procedure for all written work. This is a simple and virtually fool-proof method of teaching children to spell the days and months. It is also essential training for writing formal letters.

3. Continued:

The first part of the next word-sum is en + joy.

- What word does that make? (enjoy)
- Now spell enjoy out loud. (e-n-j-o-y)

Write enjoy in the first blank.

- Does enjoy end with a consonant plus y? (No)
- Do we change the 'y' to an 'i' when we write enjoyable? (No)
- Spell enjoyable out loud. (e-n-j-o-y-a-b-l-e)

Now write enjoyable in your workbook.

The first part of the next word-sum is scare + y.

- What word does that make? (scary)
- Now spell scary out loud. (s-c-a-r-y)
- What rule did you follow? (dropping the 'e')

Write scary in the first blank.

- Does scary end with a consonant plus y? (Yes)
- Do we change the 'y' to an 'i' when we write scarier? (Yes)
- Spell scarier out loud. (s-c-a-r-i-e-r)

Now write scarier in your workbook.

Add the rest of the word-sums together.

sprayed      angrier      delaying      bossiest

Now turn the page and write these words from dictation.

funniest      enjoyable      scarier
sprayed      angrier      delaying      bossiest

4. Morpheme sums:

Add the morphemes together.

station      objections      accepted
receiver      division      photograph

Now cover your work and write these words from dictation:

5. Sentence dictation:

1. We accepted the builder's proposal.
2. You ought to take a photograph of that railway station.
